

In 2005, Stanford University psychologist Sonja Lyubomirsky decided to put the kindness-fulfillment connection to the test. She asked students to carry out five weekly "random acts of kindness" of their choice, anything from buying a Big Mac for a homeless person to helping a younger sibling with schoolwork. Read about her findings and the research of others . . . .

Continue reading ? [1]

CONTACT US

Unless otherwise indicated, all content on this site is licensed under a Creative Commons 3.0 US License.

Source URL: <https://personalsafetynets.com/content/paying-it-forward>

Links

[1] <https://personalsafetynets.com/content/paying-it-forward>